Lecturer Track Employment Criteria

Updated: 2/14/2013

Two ways to get hired at the University of Washington Bothell:

- On a course-by-course and/or quarter-by-quarter, contractually limited basis.
- By applying to a national search for a one or multi-year appointment that is renewable up to a five year period.

Faculty titles:

Responsibilities:
Along with teaching responsibilities full-time faculty have:

- Service responsibilities.
  - developing new curriculum
  - serving on committees
  - attendance at faculty meetings; participation in governance matters
- Research responsibilities.
  - All UW postings require the statement that all UW faculty must engage in teaching, research and service thus all competitively recruited faculty have a research component as part of their work expectations. This is determined between faculty and program director.
- Outside Work for Compensation.

Employee benefits eligibility:

- Less than 50% fte = no benefits
- Greater than 50% fte for two or more quarters = full benefits (medical, dental, retirement, life insurance, etc.)
- All full-time faculty have up to 90 days of sick leave per academic year
Benefits to being hired through a competitive recruitment process:

- Promotional opportunities.
  - From Lecturer to Senior Lecturer.
  - From Senior Lecturer to Principle Lecturer.
- May apply for a sabbatical after six full years of employment.
