The German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD) Scholarships and Internships
Deadline: End of January
The German Academic Exchange Service (DAAD) offers a variety of opportunities for Americans to study, conduct research, or work in Germany, including study abroad scholarships, summer study programs, and research internships in science and engineering. Proficiency in German may be required.

Graduate Study in the UK
Deadline: UW Internal Deadline: April
The Churchill, Gates Cambridge, Marshall, Mitchell and Rhodes scholarships are the most prestigious merit scholarships that provide funding for students interested in attending graduate school in the UK. Competitive applicants are US citizens with a 3.7 GPA and a record of leadership and participation in extra-curricular activities (academic, research, internships, service, study abroad), who have obtained a baccalaureate degree by the start of the grant. International students may apply for the Gates Cambridge and the Rhodes Scholarships. Some age restrictions may apply.

Funded Research Opportunities

Multidisciplinary International Research Training (MIRT)
Deadline: Early February
Designed to encourage underrepresented students to pursue careers in biomedical and behavioral research, the program provides support for undergraduate and graduates to do health-related population-based research and training in developing countries.

Amgen Scholars Program in Biomedical Sciences
Deadline: February
Fully funded, 9-week summer research immersion internship, hosted at UW, for students interested in gaining biotechnology research experience and exploring the biosciences as a career. Applicants must be US citizens or permanent residents with a GPA of at least 3.2 and interest in pursuing a Ph.D. or M.D./Ph.D.

Research Experience for Undergraduates
Deadline: February – April
The National Science Foundation (NSF) funds research sites all over the country and abroad to promote undergraduate engagement in research. Applicants must be US citizens or permanent residents, have a strong GPA and interest in graduate studies. Students are granted stipends and, in many cases, assistance with housing and travel.

UW Summer Institute in the Arts & Humanities
Deadline: March
A unique opportunity for selected undergraduates to earn full-time, academic credit through immersion in scholarly research with accomplished scholars and peers. Focused on a different topic each summer, the program brings together four faculty and twenty students in plenary, seminar and tutorial-style sessions mid-June through mid-August. Recipients receive $4,000.

Other Enrichment Programs

Beinecke Scholarship
Deadline: January
This highly competitive opportunity offers up to $34,000 for US citizens with exceptional academic ability and financial need to pursue graduate studies in the arts, humanities, or social sciences.

Charles B. Rangel Summer Enrichment Program in Washington, DC
Deadline: February
The Rangel Summer Program for students interested in international affairs provides academic credit, networking with government agency professionals, and invaluable professional experience. The award covers tuition, room, board, and travel. Applicants must be US citizens, full-time undergraduate freshman, sophomore, or junior students with a GPA of at least 3.2.

Trials Pre-Law Program at Harvard or New York University
Deadline: February
