OPT STEM Extension: Application Packet & FAQs
(Revised February 2021)

Step 1: Discuss with your employer about your interest to apply for OPT STEM extension.
The regulations require participation from the employer during the application process. We recommend that you both review immigration’s guidance: https://studyinthestates.dhs.gov/stem-opt-extension-overview and https://studyinthestates.dhs.gov/stem-opt-hub

Step 2: Review and collect all application documents (See checklist in this packet)

Step 3: Contact your primary International Student Advisor (www.uwb.edu/cie/meet-your-advisor)
CIE must receive a completed and signed copy of the I-983 training plan (either in person or by email). This information will be used to issue your updated OPT STEM extension I-20.

Step 4: Mail your STEM OPT application to USCIS
The application must be received by USCIS before your current OPT expires and within 60 days from the date your OPT STEM extension I-20 is issued; otherwise your application will be automatically denied. If the mailing address on your I-765 form is in Washington State, mail your application to the following address.

Use an express/courier mail service such as FedEx or UPS
USCIS Attn: I-765 C03
131 South Dearborn - 3rd Floor
Chicago, IL 60603-5517

Step 5: Track your OPT application
Within 3-4 weeks, USCIS will send you a notice of receipt document, called Form I-797. The notification will include a receipt number and provide information on how to check the status of your application. If your application is missing information, a “Request for Evidence (RFE)” letter will be mailed to the address provided in your application.

If you move while your OPT application is processing, you MUST inform immigration with your new address using the Change of Address Form @ www.uscis.gov/addresschange

If your current post-completion OPT authorization expires after an OPT STEM extension application is properly and timely filed, then your employment authorization is considered automatically extended for up to 180 days while the OPT STEM extension application is pending. All work done during this 180-day period is considered OPT STEM extension time that counts towards the 24-month total.

Step 6: If your application is approved, you will receive your STEM OPT card in the mail about 3 months from your application receipt date.

Step 7: Complete the annual I-983 self-evaluation and 6-month validity reports with immigration; Notify immigration if there is a change in your employment or contact information.
More detailed information about how to do this is provided at www.uwb.edu/cie/alumni/stem-opt
DISCLAIMER

It is the student’s responsibility to know, understand and follow all immigration regulations during the STEM OPT application and work authorization period.

The rules and regulations set by the Department of Homeland Security regarding STEM OPT is available at:

- https://studyinthestates.dhs.gov/stem-opt-extension-overview
- https://studyinthestates.dhs.gov/stem-opt-hub

The Center for International Education (CIE) provides guidance and resources, but are not attorneys. Students are required to submit to the CIE copies of the I-983 Training Plan(s), and I-983 Evaluations for immigration record-keeping purposes. If you do not submit these with CIE, you could risk losing your OPT STEM extension authorization or negatively impact future immigration applications. General guidance from CIE about requirements while on STEM OPT is provided at www.uwb.edu/cie/alumni/stem-opt.

Students are strongly encouraged to consult an immigration attorney with detailed questions about their job eligibility, if there are issues regarding the application, or questions from their employers about STEM OPT work requirements. Resources to help you get started on finding counsel is available at www.uwb.edu/cie/current-students/legal-services.

APPLICATION : FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQs)

Am I eligible to apply for OPT STEM extension?
You are eligible if you meet all of the following conditions:

- You are currently on post-completion OPT that hasn’t expired.
- You completed a Bachelors, Masters, or Doctoral degree in an eligible STEM Designated Degree, as chosen by the Dept. of Homeland Security (see UWB chart below and https://studyinthestates.dhs.gov/eligible-cip-codes-for-the-stem-opt-extension). This is based on your major, not minor.
  - You can apply for STEM OPT through the CIE office using your UW Bothell degree or a previous STEM degree that you earned but never did STEM OPT extension.
- You have a job offer from an employer that has an E-Verify number AND an Employer Identification Number (EIN).
- You have a job offer that is paid AND at least part-time (20 hours/week or more) AND related to your degree.

When should I apply? Is there a deadline?
You can apply up to 120 days before your current authorization expires. USCIS must receive your STEM OPT application before your current OPT expires, otherwise they will deny the application.

When does my OPT STEM extension work authorization start?
The extension is a continuation from your 12-month OPT. For example, if your 12-month OPT end date is September 1, 2018 then your 24-month OPT STEM extension authorization would start (if approved) from September 2, 2018.

What if my OPT expires before by STEM OPT application is approved?
Don’t worry. If your OPT authorization expires and your STEM OPT application has been properly and timely filed, then your employment authorization is considered automatically extended for up to 180 days while the STEM OPT... application is pending. All work done during this 180-day period is considered STEM OPT extension time that counts towards the 24-month total.

What are the job requirements during the STEM OPT extension?

- Your employer must have an E-Verify number AND an Employer Identification Number (EIN).
- At least part-time employment (20 hours per week)
- Paid job (volunteering is not allowed).
- Job is related to your degree, which is used as part of your STEM OPT application.

What jobs CAN’T I do while on STEM OPT extension?

- Volunteer/unpaid positions
- Self-employment
- Employment through a third party, such as an staff or temp agency, is still a gray area. The employer that signs the Form I-983 must be the same entity that provides the practical training experience to the student. Thus, we advise to be cautious when accepting this employment during STEM OPT period.

How many days of unemployment am I allowed during STEM OPT?
You are allowed a total of 60 days of unemployment during your OPT STEM extension. This is in addition to the 90 days of unemployment that you are allowed during your initial 12-months of OPT work authorization.

What are the requirements that I must complete during STEM OPT?
More detailed information is at https://www.uwb.edu/cie/alumni/stem-opt. Immigration requires that you keep checking in with them to confirm your current employment information and contact information. Failure to complete can jeopardize your SEVIS record. Immigration requires you to complete the following:

- Self-Evaluation Reports: On the last page of the I-983 Training Plan, you will find the 1st year and final year evaluation reports that you and your employer must complete, and then submit to CIE for filing with immigration.
- 6-month Validity Reports: You must confirm your current contact and employment information by using CIE’s online STEM OPT Validity Report at www.uwb.edu/cie/forms. Once received, CIE will confirm the information to immigration on your behalf.
- Change in Employment? Submit a new I-983 Training Plan: The new I-983 must be submitted to CIE and then CIE office will update your employment information to immigration. A new I20 can be provided to you.

Can I study while on STEM OPT?
Yes, but you may only take recreational courses. If you begin a new degree program, your current OPT authorization is automatically terminated when the I-20 is updated and/or transferred to the new school.

When can I travel outside the U.S.?
Do not travel outside the U.S. if your OPT expired and your STEM OPT application is still pending. A list of required documents is provided at www.uwb.edu/cie/alumni/travel

What happens after my STEM OPT extension expires?
You have a 60-day grace period, visit www.uwb.edu/cie/alumni/after-opt about your options. Also, we have resources about H1B visa, Green Card, and legal services at www.uwb.edu/cie/current-students/legal-services.

Dear Employer,

We appreciate your interest in hiring our alum to your team! The student is entering the job market with their distinguished University of Washington Bothell degree paired with their initiative, flexibility and experience to adapt to new situations. A student who has studied and lived abroad, as you may know, offers employers a wide range of skills and abilities to your team, such as their ability to see multiple perspectives, comfortable with ambiguous situations, and great self-reliance.

The following is helpful information that we have put together regarding the current STEM OPT extension procedures, including what is necessary from you as the employer. You will find the acronym “DSO” in many materials and we want to clarify what this is. “DSO” stands for Designated School Official, and the student’s DSO is the staff members in our office – UW Bothell’s Center for International Education. In other words, if you are instructed to contact the student’s DSO, you should contact our office and we will help you.

A few highlights that employers should be aware of are:

- Employer must have an E-Verify number AND an Employer Identification Number (EIN).
- The employee and their employer must work together to complete the Mentor and Training Plan–Form I-983 prior to the employee applying for the STEM OPT extension.
- The employer must review the student’s self-evaluations and sign it to attest to its accuracy.
- The employer must notify UW Bothell Center for International Education at the earliest available opportunity regarding any material changes to Form I-983, including if they believe the student is not receiving appropriate training as delineated in the Form I-983.
- A new provision of the STEM OPT extension rules allow the Department of Homeland Security to perform a site visit to the employer location, if needed.
