Date

We will be unable to confirm that graduation requirements have been met for the minor until this form is received. If you have not met with Professor Kochis for a signature by the second week of the quarter, your graduation date may be delayed. The signed form must be returned to the IAS program office, UW1 390.

Practical Experience Requirement

The purpose of the practical experience requirement for the human rights minor is to ensure that students connect with real world issues during their university experience as they pursue the human rights minor.

Students may choose one of the following activities to satisfy the Practical Experience Requirement:

- Take the course BIS 403 Washington DC Human Rights Seminar;
- Take a course with a substantial service learning component: (i.e. CBLR course);
- Year-long participation in the student human rights club, Human Equality and Rights Everywhere;
- Volunteer with an organization that works with a vulnerable population (app. 30 hours);

To fulfill the requirement:

1. Download the Practical Experience Form
2. Meet with Prof. Bruce Kochis, during the first two weeks of the quarter, to get approval for proposed activity;
3. Fill out the top portion of the Practical Experience Form;
4. Have it signed by Prof. Bruce Kochis (during the first two weeks of the quarter).
5. Complete proposed activity
6. Provide a 2-3 page reflection paper on your experience, emphasizing what new human rights lessons you learned from the experience or what human rights issues you confronted;
7. Have Professor Kochis sign the bottom portion of our Practical Experience form.

Submit the completed form to the IAS office in UW1-390.
