Master of Nursing

Advancing the health of communities through nursing leadership

- Become a nurse leader — join our top-ranked Master of Nursing program.
- Flexible hybrid schedule — designed with your future career and current commitments in mind.
- Customize your curriculum — track options include administrative leadership and education.

www.uwb.edu/mn
BE THE CHANGE YOU WANT TO SEE

OUR MASTER OF NURSING PROGRAM combines the close attention of expert UW faculty with the camaraderie of a small cohort of classmates who are working professionals committed to making a difference, just like you.

▶ Your courses are all taught by interdisciplinary faculty who are internationally recognized for their research and commitment to teaching excellence.

COMPLETE YOUR UW DEGREE IN AS LITTLE AS TWO YEARS

UW BOTHELL’S FLEXIBLE HYBRID MN DELIVERS the rigor and reputation of a UW program with the convenient schedule of online coursework and bi-weekly, in-person sessions created to fit a busy lifestyle of competing professional and personal priorities.

▶ The predictability of a hybrid schedule means our program is work-compatible. Meet in person every other Friday and complete interactive assignments online in alternate weeks.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE EXTENSIVE UW NETWORK

STUDENTS GROW THEIR PROFESSIONAL NETWORKS across the region through class projects and fieldwork opportunities. Our program has a team of faculty, staff and community partners as well as world-class resources to support your goals.

▶ Build your professional network: Be part of the UW’s nursing network — now more than 20,000 nurses strong!

“[The program] encourages people to think bigger, think systems, think programs and how you can influence others.”

▶ JENNIFER COLLINS, ALUMNA, SPRING 2018

GRADUATION RATE:
More than 90% of students graduate within three years.
TRACK OPTIONS THAT FIT YOUR CAREER GOALS

MASTER OF NURSING - ADMINISTRATIVE LEADERSHIP
Designed and taught in partnership with UW Bothell’s School of Business graduate faculty, this track prepares you for advanced roles in leadership, management and administration.

MASTER OF NURSING - NURSE EDUCATION
Designed by nurse educators, this track prepares you to teach the next generation of nurses in a wide variety of educational settings—from the academic classroom to the clinical setting.

MASTER OF NURSING
Create your own focus of study by selecting the elective courses from across the UW’s tri-campus system that support your academic and career goals. Common focus areas include population & global health, health policy, and nursing research.

TAKE THE NEXT STEP:
APPLY TODAY

• Talk to our program advisor or meet our faculty.
• Come to in-person information session.
• Program accepts applications year-round for fall admission.
• Costs comparable to other graduate programs. Multiple funding opportunities are available.

NOT READY TO START IN THE FALL?
Options available to enroll in courses with alternative start dates.

“Our master’s students bring so much creativity and passion to their coursework — and their commitment to excellent leadership is what brings many of them to graduate study. As faculty, my role is to help them identify and build their skills to become the nurse leaders they want to be.”

MEGHAN EAGEN-TORKKO, ASSISTANT PROFESSOR

SMALL CLASS SIZE:
With an average class size of only 25, students get the opportunity to participate in class discussions and form individualized mentorship relationships.
The MN program is one three UW School of Nursing graduate programs serving the Puget Sound region and beyond.

The baccalaureate degree program in nursing and master’s degree program at the University of Washington Bothell are accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education, 655 K Street NW, Suite 750, Washington, DC 20001, 202-887-6791 (www.ccneaccreditation.org).

“I went to UW Bothell’s MN program because it had the curriculum and resources that paralleled my professional interests and goals at a schedule and pace that allowed for flexibility with work and personal life.”

CURRENT STUDENT BRIAN VELASCO