The Childcare Assistance program is a financial need-based program that will support University of Washington Bothell (UWB) students with the high cost of childcare in the state of Washington. The program will increase the possibilities of a higher education to nontraditional students who have different needs and priorities. By providing a childcare assistance program, SAF will increase growth, resourcefulness, diversity, student centeredness, community, innovation and sustainability at the UWB campus. The program reflects the 21st Century initiative and Student Activities bylaws. After last year’s SAF request, UWB SAF was able to grant $120,000 for the continuation of the CCAP pilot program. The program continues to grow and provide opportunity for UWB parenting students; through our pilot we have been able to see and implement necessary alterations as needed. This includes providing more aid per student, providing aid for multiple children in a family, as well as providing summer aid. The Childcare Assistance program is the perfect initiative for SAF to incorporate. It not only reflects the initiative, but it is in accordance with the SAF bylaws section 5 number 6 which states that we can request funds specifically for “cost of childcare for children of currently enrolled UW Bothell students” By providing a childcare assistance program, SAF will increase growth and resourcefulness. Programs held in the UW Bothell financial need-based program will support diversity, student centeredness, community, innovation and sustainability at the UWB campus.

In 2018-2019 we were able to provide assistance for 32 children of 24 students using a total of $82,500. Funding lapsed however, for the 2019-2020 academic year, and many parents were struggling to make ends meet. Funding for the 2020-2021 school year of $120,000 provided assistance to 13 children, but student parents are still applying at this time, so that number is growing. The lower numbers of enrollment are likely due to the fact that we have suddenly moved to virtual learning and the word of mouth regarding this assistance is much less. For many students, any significant contribution in childcare assistance can mean a difference between attending UW Bothell or not. Many students must choose between attending fulltime and receiving financial assistance for UWB tuition or attending part time at the cost of financial benefits due to lack of childcare. The impact of this pandemic which includes school closures with no plans to reopen currently, and parents taking on 100% of the burden of childcare, has greatly increased the need for affordable childcare so that parent students can successfully complete their schoolwork and meet school deadlines. Parents are being asked to not only do their work, schoolwork and parenting duties, but also to be available to provide childcare and oftentimes educational assistance for young children due to school closures. Affordable childcare would make education possible during this incredibly difficult time.
Q11. Strategic Plan
How would you like to see this program grow/change/adapt, and what role does funding play into this vision? Please describe some key goals you are hoping to accomplish, now and in the future. (1000 character limit, approx. 150 words or less)

The biggest area where there is room for growth in this program is being able to enroll more students. The more money available, the more students are able to access funding for childcare. Students who have access to childcare funding are more likely to be able to stay enrolled in school and graduate with a higher GPA. The pandemic and resulting school closures have left a huge burden on parents to assume all educational and childcare responsibilities. We do not know exactly what next year will look like but can safely assume that a combination of both remote and in-person learning will be necessary for school-aged children. This still leaves an enormous burden on parents’ shoulders. For many parents, it is almost impossible to complete school related work while assuming all childcare responsibilities, and in many cases needing to take on the role of educator for their children.

Q12. Assessment
Estimate how many currently enrolled students will likely benefit from your proposed service or program. If you have previous statistics from past programs, please feel free to include for comparison.
What is the impact of your program and how do you measure the affects?
If a new program, describe how you plan to assess the proposed service/program. Describe any metrics or operational targets your unit uses to assess its financial and operational health.
(Supporting documents or materials are not required but may be presented in the hearing if desired.)

As of fall quarter 2020 there are 13 student parents accessing funds through this program. In the 2017-18 school year there were 33 total students served and 40 children. That dropped down to 25 total students in 2018-2019. A key goal to accomplish for next school year is getting 35 student parents or more enrolled for childcare assistance. This program impacts student parent’s ability to focus on school. Parents can potentially either not work, or work less hours if they have childcare funding. Washington has some of the least affordable child care in the country, ranking among the top 10 states for least affordable child care when median costs are compared to median incomes. Our state ranks as the second least affordable for care of an infant in a family home child care program, and sixth least affordable for infant care in a center. Washington ranks as the fifth least affordable state for child care for a toddler in a family home program and ninth for that care in a center. With these statistics in mind, it can be incredibly financially prohibitive for parents to consider going back to school, especially during a pandemic that has no end in sight. The impact that access to education and lessened stress has on families is immeasurable. The direct effects, however, can be measured by monitoring parent’s GPA and graduation stats after being enrolled, but that data may take a few years to accurately collect. Student testimonials on the benefits of this program could be collected and that would reflect the impact of having child care funding on parents.
