UW students will participate in two interscholastic case competitions, one in Washington State and a second out of state international competition. Conference participants analyze businesses through case studies for solution to issues involving policy, ethical, marketing and financial. These solutions are then presented to a panel (consisting of business professionals) in order to defend their recommendations. Students from all classes and majors can compete in competitions.

-If you have tracked the success of this program or service in the past, please provide that information here.

Collegiate DECA at the University of Washington Bothell is an organization which aims to prepare students in all levels and all majors for the professional world. This is obtained through business simulations and competitions which requires students to think analytically, critically and realistic. DECA is organized by UW Bothell students and is in high demand. Participation at conferences reached 35 active members last year, and remains roughly the same this year; despite a large portion of members graduating.

In 2013, a total of 35 UWB DECA members attended the regional conference and performed extremely well competing against Western Washington University, Gonzaga University, Camosun College in British Columbia, Shoreline Community College, and Spokane Community College. Two of our teams placed first in their events, two teams placed second, and three placed third.

15 UW Bothell students reached the national finals, 4 placing in the top 10 within the nation, representing UWB at a national level. In 2013 SAF provided funding to subsidize the costs of attending two conferences.

[Required] Estimate number of students that will benefit from your proposed program/service.

In 200 words or less, please do the following:

-Indicate the benefits of your proposed program for students.

-Estimate how many currently enrolled students will likely benefit from your proposed service or program.

-Estimate the number of any other individuals (and indicate their affiliation) that might benefit from this service or program.

PARTICIPATION.

1) Approximately 31 students will compete this year.

2) UWB DECA alumni return to campus biweekly to coach our students.

3) UWB DECA students will coach student groups from high schools around western Washington.

4) UWB DECA will take the lead in organizing practices with CEO and business professionals as judges.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT:

DECA students are expected to raise 45% of their necessary funding. They will host a dance in February, as well as a fundraising auction and dinner in March. The net proceeds will subsidize on-campus DECA events and the cost of sending 31 students to competitions.

[Required] How do you plan to assess the program or service?

How do you plan to track the effects of this program or service?

For example, how would track how the event/program/service went? How would you track how successful it was and what you could change in the future?

DECA's primary purpose is to help students improve their skill and confidence in analyzing problems and engaging a critical audience. We want to provide as many students as possible the opportunity to participate meaningfully in this learning activity.

We seek wide participation across classes and programs. Through spreadsheets and performance feedback from judges to students, we can assess our success by comparing results from current and previous competition performances. This helps use maintain the effectiveness of the DECA program and adjust as needed.
