

Responding to Federal Agents

Practice responding to federal agent requests using the following sentence stems:

- "I am not authorized to answer your questions."
- "I am not authorized to review or accept legal documents."
- "I have been instructed to call the UW Bothell Campus Safety Office before you proceed. Please wait while I do that."

The information on this card is not legal advice and is purely informational.

Find Relevant Resources at the QR Code Below

The information on this card is not legal advice and is purely informational.

UNIVERSITY of WASHINGTON | BOTHELL
OFFICE OF DIVERSITY, EQUITY & INCLUSION

2026 Policy & Procedure for Students Responding to Federal Agents on Campus

The information in this card is not legal advice and is purely informational.

Know Your Rights on Campus

- You have the right to remain silent - federal agents may use anything you say against you.
- Federal Agents cannot access private spaces without a valid judicial warrant or judicial order like:
 - All Classrooms
 - All Laboratories
 - Residential Halls
 - All Private offices
 - And card-access only or restricted access spaces.

The information on this card is not legal advice and is purely informational.

Know Your Rights on Campus

- You have the right to an attorney. Keep information easily accessible.
- You can refuse to sign anything that you do not understand. Do not sign or receive any documents.
- Federal Agents are permitted in public spaces like:
 - All Dining Facilities
 - All Building Hallways, Study Spaces, & Lobby areas
 - All Outdoor Spaces & more.

The information on this card is not legal advice and is purely informational.

Best Practices for Students

- Remain calm and professional.
 - Do not lie, block, or interfere with an agent.
- Follow UW Protocol when contacted
 - Inform the officer of next steps.
 - Call campus safety at 425.352.5359
 - Notify nearby professional staff or faculty members.
- Protect student and employee privacy per KWW & FERPA.

The information on this card is not legal advice and is purely informational.