The following policies have been compiled for use by students, staff, and faculty. These are included as a reference and can be linked to course syllabi. These policies have been compiled by the School of STEM Faculty Council.

Academic Integrity
Honesty and integrity are essential to the free exchange of ideas and knowledge at UW Bothell. Academic integrity will be upheld in this course. Please see what constitutes academic misconduct and review the Student Conduct Code to see the actions that are prohibited. Plagiarism is not tolerated in our classes. Here are some helpful techniques for avoiding plagiarism. The UW Bothell Office of Student Affairs will adjudicate and student misconduct. You are responsible for knowing what constitutes a violation of the Student Conduct Code, and you will be held responsible for any such violations whether they were intentional or not.

Access and Accommodations
Your experience in this class is important to us, and it is the policy and practice of the University of Washington to create inclusive and accessible learning environments consistent with federal and state law. If you experience barriers based on disability, please seek a meeting with Disability Resources for Students (DRS) to discuss and address them. If you have already established accommodations with DRS, please communicate your approved accommodations to your instructor at your earliest convenience so we can discuss your needs in this course.

DRS offers resources and coordinates reasonable accommodations for students with disabilities. Reasonable accommodations are established through an interactive process between you, your instructor(s) and DRS. If you have not yet established services through DRS, but have a temporary or permanent disability that requires accommodations (this can include but not limited to; mental health, attention-related, learning, vision, hearing, physical or health impacts), you are welcome to contact DRS at 425-352-5307 or uwbdrs@uw.edu
Anxiety and Depression
Many students are challenged by anxiety and depression. If your brain is challenged by these, please know that you are not alone. Please reach out to your instructor, advisor, and friends and they can help you do the hard work to make a counseling appointment at the Counseling Center free of charge and free of stigma.

Classroom Emergency Preparedness
Please see the following safety tips for detailed information on the following topics: active shooter, inclement weather, bomb threat, crime or violence, earthquake, fire, hazardous material spill, identity theft, lockdown, medical emergency, online safety, power outage, sexual assault, student in distress, suspicious mail, theft, pandemic flu, and extreme heat.

Coronavirus Policies
Students are required to be vaccinated and wear masks indoors. Social distancing is not necessary unless you are unvaccinated. Coronavirus policies change frequently, so please check the UW Bothell Coronavirus website.

Course Fee Statement
The purpose of course fees is to supplement state-supported course offerings when additional resources are needed to achieve the primary learning objectives of a course and to advance the learning experience. Course fees help to provide in-depth experiential learning experiences to enhance student learning not otherwise possible due to financial limitations. In determining course fees, the School of STEM seeks to provide a high-quality educational experience for all of our students within a reasonable manner given the imposition of these fees. Rules governing course fees are outlined in UW Executive Order 44 (EO). The revenue generated from course fees is used to directly support specific course offerings. STEM course fees may be used to pay for the following, as appropriate to each course:
• Materials and Supplies: Includes consumable (e.g., chemicals, disposable test tubes) and small durable items (e.g., beakers).
• Equipment: New and replacement equipment.
• Field Trips: Includes non-personnel costs associated with field trips, such as UW vehicle charges and overnight meals and accommodations.
• Technology: Includes costs associated with the use of technology to aid student learning (e.g., software licenses).
• Set-Up, Maintenance, and Cleaning for Materials, Supplies, and Equipment: Fair-share contributions toward set-up, maintenance (including repair), and cleaning of assets in the lab.
• Other Tangible Resources: This includes items that are utilized to different degrees in multiple courses.
• Non-Instructional Personnel Costs: This includes costs for lab coordinators and student lab assistants who directly support lab coordinators.

For Our Veterans
Welcome! We at UW Bothell understand that the transition into civilian life can be challenging for our veteran students and we offer several resources for any who may want to reach out for guidance or assistance in these matters. Please contact Veteran Services at 425-352-5307 or rosal@uw.edu.
Grade of Incomplete
According to University rules on incompletes “an incomplete is given only when the student has been in attendance and has done satisfactory work until within two weeks of the end of the quarter and has furnished proof satisfactory to the instructor that the work cannot be completed because of illness or other circumstances beyond the student’s control.” A grade of Incomplete can be granted only to students who have a verifiable issue that prevents them from completing the coursework in a timely fashion.

Inclement Weather
Please check if the campus may be closed due to weather. Information on suspension of operations will be made public through the media, Facebook or Twitter. You can learn of campus operations status from the UW Bothell website or by calling the Campus Information Hotline 425-352-3333. You may also sign up with an alert system that will contact you via email or text message if classes are canceled. Class activities will be rescheduled as needed.

Mask Mandate
The University of Washington is committed to making our university community a safe and healthy place for all faculty, staff, and students. To this end, we are all required to wear a mask during class regardless of vaccination status. Single-use masks will be made available near hand-sanitizing stations in buildings across the UW Bothell campus if you forget to bring your own approved face covering. Eating and drinking are not allowed in class. Please be aware that you will be asked to leave the class and a report may be filed with UW Bothell’s Office of Student Conduct if you are not in compliance with this mandate.

Parenting Student Resources
Parenting students are encouraged to take advantage of the resources provided on campus. These resources include the Parent Union at UWB, the Childcare Assistance Program, on-campus Family Friendly Spaces, priority access at Bright Horizons Bothell and Bothell KinderCare, and back-up/sick care at one of these locations. On campus resources include lactation rooms and baby changing stations.

Religious Accommodations
Washington state law requires that UW develop a policy for accommodation of student absences or significant hardship due to reasons of faith or conscience, or for organized religious activities. The UW’s policy, including more information about how to request an accommodation, is available at Faculty Syllabus Guidelines and Resources. Accommodations must be requested within the first two weeks of this course using the Religious Accommodations Request.

Respect for Diversity
Diverse backgrounds, embodiments and experiences are essential to the critical thinking endeavor at the heart of university education. We encourage you to visit the Student Diversity Center. In STEM and at UW Bothell, students are expected to:
- Respect individual differences which may include, but are not limited to: age, cultural background, disability, ethnicity, family status, gender presentation, immigration status, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, socioeconomic status, veteran status, as well as those who have experienced trauma related.
- Engage respectfully in discussion of diverse worldviews and ideologies embedded in course readings, presentations, and artifacts, including those course materials that are at odds with personal beliefs and values.

Surviving Sexual and Relationship Violence
For survivors of sexual and relationship violence (referred to as sexual misconduct in UW code) free on and off-campus support that would include confidential consultations with specially trained “Victim Advocates” as well as counselors at the Counseling Center. For students who have been diagnosed with anxiety, PTSD, depression or other mental health conditions accommodations may be available through the Disability Resources for Students (DRS).

Wondering how to address faculty?
At UW Bothell we encourage and appreciate our ability to interact closely with our students, and we value faculty-student collaboration very highly. It is also important to maintain an appropriately professional relationship. When addressing faculty, it is more appropriate to refer to them as Dr. X, Prof. X, or Mr./Ms. X as appropriate unless told to do otherwise.
